Specification

2. The abstract is acceptable.
3. The amended title of the invention is acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Randklev (US 4,871,261).

The patent to Randklev (USP 4,871,261) discloses a mixer 10 including a capsule 12 or 214 with a mixing compartment 22 or 238 for dental material therein; air-permeable filter 26 (col. 4, lines 17-24) or 288 (in the embodiment of Fig. 5) placed as an outer wall forming a part of a peripheral wall of the mixing compartment (Fig. 1); a capsule holding chamber 18 which holds the capsule 12 or 288 in a portion other than a portion corresponding to the filter 26 (note the capsule 12 is physically held at area 42 which is spaced from the filter and an area 40 is also provided spaced from the filter 26 hence the capsule is not considered held at the portion corresponding to the filter 26 – see Figure 1 and note the equivalence between the embodiments is expressed at col. 6, lines 38-40); the capsule holding chamber 18 being connected to a vacuum device 54, 58; and a plunger 292 (Fig. 6) disposed within the capsule which is adapted to extrude the material from the capsule (col. 6, lines 56-60).

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Randklev (USP 4,871,261) in view of Applicant' admitted prior art (AAPA).

Randklev (USP 4,871,261) discloses a vacuum device but does not disclose the vacuum device being an ejector connected to a compressed air supply device for a dental unit. Applicant' admitted prior art (Pages 19-20) teaches that a vacuum device can be a prior art ejector connected to a compressed air supply device for a known dental unit, where the compressed air supply device for a known dental unit placed in a dental clinic can be used as the power source thereof. Accordingly, since the admitted prior art suggests that the vacuum source of claim 2 is a well known vacuum device used in the dental art, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art, at the time applicant's invention was made, to have substituted the vacuum device of Randklev (USP 4,871,261) with a prior art ejector connected to a compressed air supply device for a known dental unit for the purpose of lowering the complexity of the mixer and reducing the cost thereof by utilizing a typical on-site vacuum source in a dental clinic environment in which the mixer of Randklev (USP 4,871,261) would typically be implemented.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 3-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
10. Claims 7-9 are allowed over the prior art of record.

Response to Amendment

11. Applicant's arguments filed 11 JUN 2003 have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive.

Applicant is reminded that "[a] claim is anticipated only if each and every element as set forth in the claim is found, either expressly or inherently described, in a single prior art reference." Verdegaal Bros. v. Union Oil Co. of California, 814 F.2d 628, 631, 2 USPQ2d 1051, 1053 (Fed. Cir. 1987). "The identical invention must be shown in as complete detail as is contained in the ... claim." Richardson v. Suzuki Motor Co., 868 F.2d 1226, 1236, 9 USPQ2d 1913, 1920 (Fed. Cir. 1989). The elements must be arranged as required by the claim, but this is not an ipsissimis verbis test, i.e., identity of terminology is not required. In re Bond, 910 F.2d 831, 15 USPQ2d 1566 (Fed. Cir. 1990).

Turning to the rejection of the claim under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b), it is noted that the terminology in a pending application's claims is to be given its broadest reasonable interpretation (In re Zletz, 893 F.2d 319, 321, 13 USPQ2d 1320, 1322 (Fed. Cir. 1989)) and limitations from a pending application's specification will not be read into the claims (Sjolund v. Musland, 847 F.2d 1573, 1581-82, 6 USPQ2d 2020, 2027 (Fed. Cir. 1988)). Anticipation under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) is established only when a single prior art reference discloses, either expressly or under the principles of inherency, each and every element of a claimed invention. See Constant v. Advanced Micro-Devices, Inc., 848 F.2d 1560, 1570, 7 USPQ2d 1057, 1064 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 488 U.S. 892 (1988); RCA Corp. v. Applied Digital Data Sys., Inc., 730 F.2d 1440, 1444, 221 USPQ

385, 388 (Fed. Cir. 1984). Moreover, anticipation by a prior art reference does not require either the inventive concept of the claimed subject matter or the recognition of properties that are inherently possessed by the prior art reference. Verdegaal Brothers Inc. v. Union Oil co. of California, 814 F.2d 628, 633, 2 USPQ2d 1051, 1054 (Fed. Cir. 1987), cert. denied, 484 U.S. 827 (1987). A prior art reference anticipates the subject matter of a claim when that reference discloses each and every element set forth in the claim (In re Paulsen, 30 F.3d 1475, 1478-79, 31 USPQ2d 1671, 1673 (Fed. Cir. 1994) and In re Spada, 911 F.2d 705, 708, 15 USPQ2d 1655, 1657 (Fed. Cir. 1990)); however, the law of anticipation does not require that the reference teach what Applicant is claiming, but only that the claims "read on" something disclosed in the reference. Kalman v. Kimberly-Clark Corp., 713 F.2d 760, 772, 218 USPQ 781, 789 (Fed. Cir. 1983), cert. denied, 465 U.S. 1026 (1984) (and overruled in part on another issue), SRI Intel v. Matsushita Elec. Corp. Of Am., 775 F.2d 1107, 1118, 227 USPQ 577, 583 (Fed. Cir. 1985). Also, a reference anticipates a claim if it discloses the claimed invention such that a skilled artisan could take its teachings in combination with his own knowledge of the particular art and be in possession of the invention. See In re Graves, 69 F.3d 1147, 1152, 36 USPQ2d 1697, 1701 (Fed. Cir. 1995), cert. denied, 116 S.Ct. 1362 (1996), quoting from In re LeGrice, 301 F.2d 929, 936, 133 USPQ 365, 372 (CCPA 1962).

With respect to the applied prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b), the examiner has explicitly demonstrated how the reference discloses each and every element set forth in amended claim 1 and how the pending claim reads on the disclosure of the reference, hence the rejection is considered proper. Contrary to Applicant's assertion, the patent to Randklev shows a plunger 292 in Fig. 6 in cooperation with the capsule 214.
